SELECTED HEADLINES

Local markets shrugged off disappointing domestic retail data that showed sales fell 1.3% year on year in August, whereas economists had forecast a rise of 2.6%. Stocks were flat, with the Johannesburg Stock Exchange's Top-40 Index rising 0.03% to 59,517 points and the broader All-Share Index up 0.04% to 66,013 points. Precious metals miners were among the best performers of the day. Anglo American Platinum was the biggest winner on the blue-chip index, rising 3.34%, followed by AngloGold Ashanti and Gold Fields, up 3.16% and 2.81% respectively.

Liberty minorities approve Standard Bank's buyout offer

Minority shareholders of JSE-listed insurance and financial services firm Liberty on Wednesday approved the proposal by major shareholder Standard Bank Group (SBG) to buy out their interests and to integrate Liberty fully into the banking giant. The endorsement was confirmed in a Sens statement and media release following a Liberty general meeting to vote on the proposal earlier in the day. "This represents a significant milestone towards finalising the proposed transaction, expected in the first quarter of 2022," the group said. "The strategic benefits of the transaction remain numerous and compelling," it added. "We believe this transaction is a natural progression of the long-standing strategic relationship between the Standard Bank Group and Liberty. Furthermore, it increases our ability to provide the best financial service offerings to our clients through the most efficient means," he added. Liberty CEO David Munro said that Standard Bank's banking, private client asset management and short-term insurance capabilities will complement Liberty's strength in long-term insurance and asset management. "Clients will benefit from the capital strength of the Standard Bank Group and the access to world-class technology partners and processes, especially during major transition points in their lives," he reiterated. While SBG has secured shareholder approval for the deal, the transaction is still subject to approvals from the South African Reserve Bank Prudential Authority, the Competition Commission, and other regulatory bodies. "Until all the conditions precedent are met, both entities will function separately, on a business-as-usual basis, with minimal client disruption," it said. Both Liberty and Standard Bank's share prices were trading marginally down following the announcement, but the market is expecting the deal to go ahead considering SBG is already a 54% majority shareholder in Liberty. Once the deal is finalised, Liberty is anticipated to be delisted from the JSE.

Vantage Data Centers plans R15bn Joburg campus at Waterfall mega-development

US-based Vantage Data Centers on Wednesday revealed plans to invest $1 billion (R15 billion) in a massive new Joburg campus on a 12-hectare site in Waterfall, the mega property node in the middle of Gauteng being spearheaded by JSE-listed Attacq. Vantage, which is headquartered out of Denver, is a global data centre giant with several sites across the US, Europe and the Asia-Pacific region. Vantage noted that the "massive investment" will "bring new business and positive economic impacts" for the city, helping to "foster economic growth, stimulate job creation, and lead the way in energy-efficient design". The deal also represents a major coup for Attacq, the developer driving the Waterfall City mixed-use CBD and broader Waterfall node that includes logistics, warehousing and now data centre property developments.

European stocks closed higher on Wednesday as strong earnings offset concerns about global growth and inflation. The pan-European Stoxx 600 closed up 0.7%, having started the session in the red. Tech stocks bounced 2.6% to lead gains, while banks fell 1.6%. U.K. GDP was 6.9% higher in August than the same period last year, slightly outstripping a Reuters consensus forecast of 6.7%. The British economy is now 0.8% below its pre-Covid level, according to the Office for National Statistics.

The S&P 500 snapped a three-day losing streak Wednesday as investors digested third-quarter earnings and insights into when the Fed might taper its asset-purchase program. Minutes released Wednesday afternoon from the Federal Open Market Committee's September meeting showed the central bank could begin tapering its asset-purchase program as soon as mid-November. The September consumer price index released Wednesday morning jumped 0.4% from the month prior and 5.4% year over year, according to the Labor Department. Economists expected to see a month-to-month increase of 0.3% or annualized rate of 5.3%, according to Dow Jones.

Asia-Pacific stocks were mostly higher as investors reacted to the release of China's inflation data for September. Producer inflation surged in September; official data showed Thursday. The producer price index for September soared 10.7% as compared with a year ago, slightly above expectations in a Reuters poll for a 10.5% increase. China's consumer price index also rose 0.7% in September as compared with a year ago. That was slightly below the 0.9% on-year increase as forecast in a Reuters poll. Markets in Hong Kong are closed today for a holiday.

Gold prices hovered near a one-month peak earlier today as the dollar and longer-dated Treasury yields retreated from recent highs following hotter-than-expected U.S. inflation data. Oil prices rose today, reversing previous losses, on expectations that high natural gas prices as winter approaches may drive a switch to oil to meet heating demand needs. Prices were also supported by concerns about supply tightness after the U.S. Energy Information Administration (EIA) said on Wednesday that crude oil output in the United States, the world's biggest producer, is going to decline in 2021 more than previously forecast thought it will bounce back in 2022.

The rand posted strong gains on Wednesday as the dollar retreated, gold prices rallied and local bonds advanced. At the close of the session, the rand was trading around R14.81 versus the dollar or 1.05% firmer. The dollar touched its lowest this week against major peers this morning, taking a breather from a rally that had lifted it to a one-year high powered by expectations for quicker Federal Reserve interest rate hikes.
