Local stocks traded lower yesterday as the All-Share index ticked 0.63% lower, while the Top 40 index ended 0.75% down. In the local municipal elections announcement yesterday, South Africa's governing African National Congress (ANC) took 46% of the vote the final count showed. This was the party's worst election outcome since taking power at the end of white minority rule in 1994. Voters punished the party for corruption and poor basic services in areas that have traditionally been ANC strongholds.

MTN in rude health – group service revenue jumps 19%

MTN Group has reported a 19.1% improvement in service revenue on the back of strong performances in data (up 34.5%) and fintech (up 35%) in the nine months to end-September 2021. Group earnings before interest, tax, depreciation and amortisation (Ebitda) leapt by 24.1%, pushing up Ebitda margin to 45% from 42.9% in the same period a year ago. MTN South Africa service revenue rose by 7.7%, with an Ebitda margin of 41.6% (39.3%), while the group's Nigerian business saw service revenue up by 23.5%, with an Ebitda margin of 52.6% (51.1%). Subscribers increased by only 200 000 to 271.9 million but this number would have been higher if not for new Sim registration regulations in Nigeria. Active data subscribers increased by 4.1 million to 119 million across the group, while active Mobile Money customers increased by 2.2 million to 51.1 million. The value of MoMo transactions jumped by 67.2% YoY to a staggering US$175.5 billion. "MTN Group recorded a solid third quarter of 2021 trading performance, tracking positively against our medium-term targets with double-digit service revenue growth and the expansion of Ebitda margins," said CEO Ralph Mupita in a statement to shareholders. "This was delivered through solid commercial momentum and the ongoing execution of our Ambition 2025 strategy in challenging Covid-19 macroeconomic and trading conditions. Material progress was made in executing on our asset realisation programme, ensuring the faster deleveraging of the group holding company balance sheet. The structural separations of the fintech and fibre assets remain on track," he said. In South Africa, a plan to sell the group's towers to a third-party tower operator have made progress, Mupita said. "MTN South Africa is well-advanced with a passive tower infrastructure transaction, securing an 'opco-friendly' sale and leaseback deal, subject to regulatory approvals." The group also announced plans to proceed with a public offer of up to 575 million shares in MTN Nigeria by way of a bookbuild to institutional investors and a fixed price to retail investors. "The offer is anticipated to open in November 2021 with a bookbuild to institutional investors, after which a fixed price is expected to be announced for retail investors, also in November 2021. The offer is expected to close in December 2021. This is the first step in our previously communicated statement of intent to sell down approximately 14% of MTN Group's current shareholding in MTN Nigeria."

European stocks closed higher on Thursday as markets reacted to the U.S. Federal Reserve's announcement that it will start to taper its bond-buying program and the Bank of England's decision to hold rates steady for now. The pan-European Stoxx 600 added 0.4% by the close, with tech climbing 1.4% to lead gains while banks dropped 2% following the Bank of England's latest policy announcement. Market focus was on the Bank of England's decision to hold interest rates steady, defying some investors' expectations that it would become the first major central bank to hike rates following the pandemic.

The S&P 500 rose for a sixth day in a row on Thursday as investors took solace in the Federal Reserve's patient stance on raising interest rates. Stronger-than-expected economic data also boosted sentiment. On the data front, U.S. jobless claims totalled 269,000 for the week ended Oct. 30, the lowest pandemic-era total and better than the 275,000 expected by economists polled by Dow Jones. October's hotly anticipated jobs report will be released on today. Consensus estimates call for 450,000 jobs added, according to Dow Jones. Nonfarm payrolls increased by 194,000 in September, far short of the 500,000 estimate.

Oil prices rose more than 1% this morning, staging a partial recovery after OPEC+ producers rebuffed a US call to raise supply and instead maintained plans for a gradual return of output halted by the pandemic. The OPEC+ group of major producers agreed on Thursday to stick to their plan to raise oil output by 400,000 barrels per day (bpd) from December, ignoring calls from U.S. President Joe Biden for extra output to cool rising prices. Meanwhile, gold was trading slightly higher this morning. This follows a 1.24% jump yesterday in the precious metal.

The rand weakened on Thursday ahead of the announcement of municipal elections results later in the day, with the outcome expected to show the country's ruling party recorded its poorest ever electoral showing. With the results' announcement, the rand lifted to close the session around R15.20 to the dollar or 0.37% firmer. The dollar was on course for a second straight week of gains against major peers today, ahead of a key U.S. jobs report that could sway the timing of Federal Reserve interest rate increases.
