SOUTH AFRICAN MARKET SUMMARY

SELECTED ITEMS

South Africa's Top-40 index closed lower on Monday, as investors await inflation data set to be released by Statistics South Africa on Wednesday. Analysts expect further disinflation after August's decline, which allowed the central bank to cut interest rates by 25 basis points last month, marking the first cut in four years. With inflation at its lowest since April 2021, there's speculation of another rate cut in November. Meanwhile, Capitec's decision to restrict transfers to crypto exchanges disappointed South Africa's crypto community. Prosus NV aims to deliver $400 million in adjusted earnings from its e-commerce business by March, with future improvements expected.

European shares closed lower on Monday following a volatile session, as investors awaited key corporate earnings reports. Despite the overall decline, the energy sector was supported by stabilizing oil prices. The STOXX index had risen in the previous two weeks, boosted by the European Central Bank's interest rate cut on Thursday. Lithuanian central bank governor Gediminas Simkus suggested that the ECB might need to lower rates further if inflation continues to fall significantly.

Gold paused after reaching a record high on Monday, as rising U.S. Treasury yields and a stronger dollar countered the boost from uncertainties surrounding the U.S. presidential election and the Middle East conflict. Meanwhile, oil prices declined this morning, reversing the nearly 2% gain from the previous day. This drop came as U.S. diplomatic efforts pushed for a ceasefire in the Middle East and slow demand in China, the world's largest oil importer, continued to pressure the market.
