LOCAL MARKET SUMMARY

SELECTED HEADLINES AND THEMES

South African equities ended the week strongly, with the All Share index rising 2.13% to 121,249.37 and the Top 40 gaining 2.38% to 113,485.58. Eskom finalised a three-year wage deal with 7% annual increases from July, exceeding current inflation of 3% and introducing potential upside price pressures. The agreement remains binding despite opposition from National Union of Metalworkers of South Africa, with majority backing from National Union of Mineworkers and Solidarity. Meanwhile, Moody's placed Johannesburg's Ba3 rating on review following governance concerns and Johannesburg Stock Exchange debt suspension. Focus shifts to inflation and retail sales data.

Spear REIT – Watergate Centre acquisition strengthens defensive retail exposure

Spear REIT announced the acquisition of the Watergate Centre in Mitchells Plain for R442 million as a going concern, reinforcing its focus on convenience-led Western Cape retail assets. The 19,642m<sup>2</sup> centre is fully let and anchored by national tenants including Shoprite and Brights Hardware, supporting stable, cash-generative income. The asset delivers an initial yield of 8.37% with a weighted average rental escalation of 6.7%, underpinned by strong daily-needs trading in a dense catchment. A relatively short 1.86-year lease profile provides near-term asset management upside through renewals and rental reversion. Transfer is expected by August 2026, subject to competition approval.

SELECTED HEADLINES AND THEMES

European equities advanced, with the STOXX Europe 600 rising 1.6% to 626.58, marking a fourth consecutive weekly gain after Iran reopened the Strait of Hormuz, easing energy supply concerns. Major bond indices including the DAX, IBEX 35 and CAC 40 gained around 2%. Bond yields declined to one-month lows as rate hike expectations softened. Despite gains, Europe continues to lag U.S. peers given structural energy dependence. Christine Lagarde highlighted downside growth risks and inflation pressures, while Italy reported modest growth supported by services and tourism.

AMERICAN MARKET SUMMARY

SELECTED HEADLINES AND THEMES

U.S. equities extended gains, with the S&P 500 and Nasdaq Composite reaching a third consecutive record close, while the Dow Jones Industrial Average hit a February high. Risk appetite improved on optimism around Strait of Hormuz reopening and potential U.S.-Iran de-escalation, supported by Donald Trump and Abbas Araqchi. Cyclical outperformed, led by travel and industrials. However, Netflix declined sharply after weak guidance and leadership changes. Elevated volumes indicated broad market participation.

ASIAN MARKET SUMMARY

SELECTED HEADLINES AND THEMES

Asia-Pacific markets traded higher but with caution amid ongoing Middle East tensions. The People's Bank of China kept its loan prime rates unchanged for an 11th month, with the one-year at 3.00% and five-year at 3.50%, reflecting stable growth and firmer inflation. Policy expectations across the region have shifted less dovish, with Bank Indonesia expected to hold rates as energy-driven inflation risks rise. This marks a broader recalibration across emerging markets, where geopolitical pressures are constraining easing cycles and reinforcing currency stability concerns, particularly for the rupiah.

COMMODITIES MARKET SUMMARY

SELECTED HEADLINES AND THEMES

Commodities diverged, with oil prices rallying while gold softened. Brent and WTI crude gained over 5% as renewed tensions around the Strait of Hormuz, following a U.S. seizure of an Iranian vessel, heightened supply disruption risks. This reversed part of Friday's sharp 9% decline after a temporary reopening eased concerns. Gold prices declined as a stronger dollar weighed on demand, despite rising inflation risks linked to potential energy shocks. The backdrop highlights persistent volatility across commodities, with markets reacting rapidly to geopolitical developments and shifting expectations around global supply dynamics.

CURRENCY MARKET SUMMARY

SELECTED HEADLINES AND THEMES

The rand strengthened modestly on Friday amid a softer dollar, supported by optimism around a potential U.S.-Iran peace deal. However, the US Dollar Index rebounded to around 98.30 on Monday as renewed tensions revived safe-haven demand. Despite this, the index remains down roughly 1.5% in April following March's conflict-driven surge. Currency markets remain highly sensitive to geopolitical developments, with volatility expected to persist. Focus is also turning to the Bank of Japan, where Kazuo Ueda has signalled potential policy tightening by mid-year.
