LOCAL MARKET SUMMARY

SELECTED HEADLINES AND THEMES

Improved fiscal sentiment accompanied Monday's equity gains, with the JSE All Share advancing 1.03% to 109,130.32 and the Top 40 adding 0.99% to 100,977.01. Moody's welcomed the medium-term budget's consolidation measures, describing them as credit positive without changing South Africa's Ba2 rating or positive outlook. An upward tax revenue revision supported the reduced deficit target of 3.9% of GDP. However, substantial interest costs continued to constrain debt affordability. Among companies, Pick n Pay gained 6.06% following stronger trading profit and a smaller headline loss. ASP Isotopes rose 0.72% after announcing stable liquid helium production at Renergen's Virginia Gas Project ahead of initial contracted deliveries.

ASP Isotopes – Virginia Gas Project Reaches Stable Helium Production

Commissioning at the Virginia Gas Project has concluded, with Tetra4 achieving stable liquid helium production and building cryogenic inventories before initial deliveries. ASP Isotopes said logistics arrangements with contracted offtakers were being finalised, while management expects nameplate capacity during the fourth quarter of 2026. Phase 1 targets approximately 2,500 GJ/day of liquefied natural gas and 70 Mcf/day of liquid helium. Renergen, an ASP Isotopes subsidiary, holds 94.5% of Tetra4. The project carries South Africa's first onshore petroleum production right and combines LNG and liquid helium production. The operational milestone introduces an additional independent helium source amid pressure on global supplies, although output targets remain prospective.

Pick n Pay Stores – Margin Recovery Narrows Interim Loss

Stronger gross margins and Boxer's contribution lifted Pick n Pay's interim trading profit 58.1% to R490 million, despite turnover growth of 2.4% to R60.5 billion. The headline loss contracted 31.9% to R299 million, or 40.71 cents per share. Boxer increased turnover 6.3%, while Pick n Pay's segment sales were broadly unchanged and its trading loss narrowed 16.9%. Net cash stood at R10.0 billion. A labour agreement supports more flexible scheduling and tighter cost control. Management continues targeting FY29 trading profit after lease interest breakeven for the Pick n Pay segment, but elevated oil prices and pressure on household spending cloud the remaining FY27 outlook.

EUROPEAN MARKET SUMMARY

SELECTED HEADLINES AND THEMES

Corporate earnings optimism helped European shares recover despite persistent energy cost pressures. The STOXX 600 finished Monday 0.77% higher at 640.66, with Computacenter and Genmab leading gains. Germany's Ifo business climate index reached 90.2 in October, exceeding the 90.0 forecast and September's 89.9 reading. Expectations improved to 91.6 from 90.4, extending the broader confidence recovery to six months. The government increased its growth projections to 1.3% for 2026 and 1.1% for 2027. Investors now await Thursday's European Central Bank meeting, where unchanged rates are widely expected following June and September increases, although economists anticipate another quarter-point rise in December as inflation concerns persist.

AMERICAN MARKET SUMMARY

SELECTED HEADLINES AND THEMES

Renewed interest in artificial intelligence supported Monday's US equity recovery after two consecutive weekly declines in the S&P 500 and Nasdaq. Anthropic's public offering documents revealed exceptional revenue growth but considerable losses, sharpening debate over the industry's investment requirements. Meta declined 1.88% after proposing equity fundraising of up to $95 billion. More than one-third of S&P 500 constituents report this week, including Alphabet, Microsoft and Amazon. Their results will test whether substantial infrastructure expenditure is producing sustainable growth. Wednesday's Federal Reserve announcement, Thursday's economic growth and inflation releases, and the November 3 congressional elections add further uncertainty to the near-term investment outlook.

ASIAN MARKET SUMMARY

SELECTED HEADLINES AND THEMES

China's latest industrial earnings figures highlighted the contrasting forces shaping Asia's outlook as regional equities rallied on Tuesday. September industrial profits grew 14.4% annually, accelerating from August's 4.2%, while growth over nine months moderated to 15.5%. Electronics-related manufacturing profits increased 103.8%, contrasting with a 51.3% decline in furniture manufacturing. Anthropic's IPO filing supported investor appetite for technology shares ahead of major earnings announcements. Nevertheless, the Bank of Korea modelled a potential $50 billion–$100 billion semiconductor export shortfall next year if US AI investment slows. Separately, AirTrunk secured a A$4.25 billion green loan for continued development of its Western Sydney data-centre campus.

COMMODITIES MARKET SUMMARY

SELECTED HEADLINES AND THEMES

Diplomatic efforts and continuing attacks pulled oil markets in opposing directions on Tuesday, leaving Brent lower but close to six-month highs. Officials from Saudi Arabia, Turkey and Pakistan met Iranian representatives in Tehran and agreed to maintain discussions aimed at improving regional security. Renewed Houthi attacks on Saudi Arabia limited the decline, while shipping incidents around the Strait of Hormuz remained a concern. Brent touched $117 on Monday. Gold recovered that session as easing oil prices reduced inflation concerns, before trading approximately 0.26% lower this morning. Russian refiners increased diesel production following export quota approvals associated with a US supply agreement.

CURRENCY MARKET SUMMARY

SELECTED HEADLINES AND THEMES

Central-bank decisions and fiscal announcements shaped currency positioning as the dollar index held at 102.04 on Tuesday, near a one-week high. The yen surrendered more of its recent defensive gains as risk appetite improved. Japan's service-sector inflation reached 3.7% in September, supporting expectations of further tightening despite an anticipated Bank of Japan hold at 1.25% on Friday. Sterling weakened against the euro on Monday ahead of Wednesday's UK budget. The euro had recovered after Moody's left France's credit rating unchanged, easing fiscal concerns. Meanwhile, the rand was steady in early Monday trading as investors awaited domestic economic data and the Federal Reserve decision.
