

SPW FLEXIBLE PORTFOLIO

31 AUGUST 2024

PORTFOLIO DESCRIPTION AND INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE

This multi-asset class portfolio invests both locally and offshore. Local assets may include equities, bonds, money market instruments and property. Offshore exposure is obtained through direct investment in listed instruments and/or investment in collective investment schemes. The mandate allows for an unconstrained view, both from an asset allocation and a stock-picking perspective. Portfolio management is likely to reflect high-conviction calls and high levels of trading activity, both of which will at times reflect tactical investment calls. The asset classes will be selected on the potential to generate nominal performance and not on a relative valuation perspective.

YOUR PERSONAL EQUITY PORTFOLIO

The SPW Flexible Portfolio is constructed by the investment team based on an intensive and rigorous investment process. It acts as a guide to your portfolio manager in customising your personal portfolio to suit your individual requirements. Note that the performance on this fact sheet is based on the model portfolio - the performance of your portfolio may vary, depending on the level of deviation from the model and the fees charged.

WHY SELECT A PERSONAL PORTFOLIO

A personal portfolio is suitable to discerning investors who might have unique factors to consider during the investment process. Your investment can be tailored to your requirements, you have more direct access to your portfolio manager and you have direct ownership of shares. Your portfolio will not be affected by the cash investment and withdrawals of other investors.

PORTFOLIO MANAGERS COMMENT

The global equity market continued to move higher in the second quarter, with further outperformance from the US over other developed markets. The S&P 500 Index reached a new all-time high, but the gains remained narrow as the equal-weighted S&P 500 Index actually declined while the so-called 'Magnificent 7' US large-cap technology stocks were responsible for most of the returns, rising another 17%. The Eurostoxx 50 and Japanese Topix indices both ended lower in US dollar terms.

Developed market equities, as measured by the MSCI World Index, rose 2.6% in US dollar terms in the second quarter while global bonds declined 1.1%. The technology sector rose 11.4% but other sectors struggled to keep momentum, ending the quarter little changed. After remaining sticky in the first quarter, US inflation numbers continued their downward trajectory in the second quarter. However, the US Federal Reserve remained cautious about the risk of reigniting inflation if it lowers interest rates too early given the strength of the labour market and financial conditions that remain loose. Towards the end of the quarter, global economic data showed signs of cooling with the economic surprise indices of major economies moving into negative territory.

South African equities, as measured by the FTSE/JSE All Share Index, had a strong quarter, gaining 8.2% in rand terms. Given a stronger rand, the return in US dollars was even stronger at 12.3%. This was on the back of improved investor sentiment following the election outcome – the Government of National Unity is expected to continue progress with regard to structural reforms aimed at lifting the country's potential growth rate. In this context, South African domestic sectors such as banks (+20%) and general retailers (+12%) performed strongly. Unrelated to the political developments, Anglo American rose sharply (+24%) following a takeover bid from BHP. South African bonds also reacted positively to the election outcome, as the governing parties are seen to be committed to fiscal discipline – the FTSE/JSE All Bond Index gained 7.5% in the quarter. Cash returned 2.1% while local listed property gained 5.5%. The rand strengthened against most currencies, gaining 3.2% against the US dollar.

The portfolio delivered nominal performance of 9.10% for the 12-month period to the end of August. This return missed the inflation-plus-5% target for the period. Not only have the higher recent inflation numbers raised the performance bar materially, but the benchmark of CPI+5% has proved to be a tough measuring stick over the past five years. However, the good performance over 36 months (8.1% per annum) came close to the inflation-plus benchmark of 10.2% per annum for the period. The portfolio has recorded a credible 8.3% per annum after costs since inception.

Over the past 12 months, the relatively poor performance of government bonds (both locally and globally), which struggled to beat inflation, hampered the fixed income performance of the portfolio in the short term. Improved equity performance in 2024 means that the portfolio is ahead of its benchmark over the first half of 2024. Through the second quarter, we added to the Schroder QEP Global Core Equity Fund, which improved the balance of our global equity exposure. At the same time, we trimmed our energy equities holdings. We increased the portfolio's holdings in South African-exposed stocks Standard Bank and Pepkor to take advantage of attractive pre-election prices, while trimming our exposure to Anglo American. We also added to South African government bonds when prices were attractive shortly before the election.

Outlook and portfolio positioning

Considering the sharp rise in interest rates over the past year and the reduction in global money supply, the US economy has remained remarkably resilient. However, we know that monetary policy works with variable lags. Recent economic data has turned softer, but not enough to persuade the Fed to start cutting, as it remains wary of the strong labour market and the risk of reigniting inflation. The risk-versus-reward outlook for global equities currently doesn't appear very attractive, but the increase in real yields over the past two years has improved the prospective return profile of fixed interest investments. South African equities and bonds screen cheaply after more than five years of domestic and foreign investor outflows. It remains to be seen whether the election outcome has provided the catalyst for the reversal of these investor flows to unlock the value.
